

Cars

They're often assigned a woman's name
To describe their feel and curves
How they perform and handle bends
And how they do get on your nerves

My first was 'British' through and through
Full fronted, prim-proper, slightly haughty
That psycho needed lots of attention
And she was very seldom 'naughty'

One was a Jensen through and through
Nice shape, engine so temperamental
With up's and downs and swings of mood
In the end she drove me mental

The foreign model was a big mistake
Cost a bloody fortune over three years
Deceived by the marketing press and sales
It was bound to end in tears

The current model is running well
A fun but thirsty blighter
And as always with the cars we choose
They make your wallet lighter