

Winner

Had a stroke of luck today
Right out of the blue
Had my tickets, pink and green
And stood there in the queue

Expectant folk, had paid up too
The chance to win the raffle
Don't expect too much at all
A little "something nice" to snaffle

And then the wonder of it all
Jaw dropped and opened eyes
My ticket pops up from the box
And then, for me, first prize!

So, life's not always doom and gloom
Lady-Luck can be your mate
Take home what luck gives back to you
And restore your faith in fate.
