

Road Warrior (Dec 2016)

Empowered, trained and all the gear
The Warrior takes to the road
All points of the compass he can reach
To unleash his professional load

Entrenched in a space, unfamiliar zone
He plies his trade with relish
But a zone of war that's not his to fight
He can start but will not finish

Among the clique he sits alone
Apart from the hullabaloo
The lonesome Warrior once again
Thoughts drift, what best to do?

To fight the fight and do the work
And suppress his empty core
Keep to plan and work it through
Let the lonesome feelings thaw
